

HOLLYWOOD FARM

A photograph of a rural landscape featuring a large, open field of tall, golden grass in the foreground. In the middle ground, there's a cluster of farm buildings, including a prominent red barn with a white roof and a smaller white building. A dense line of dark green trees forms a backdrop under a bright blue sky with scattered white clouds.

Annapolis, Maryland

Hollywood Farm

Hollywood Farm is a fourth-generation, 126-acre family farm in Annapolis, Maryland. Jean-Francois and Thackray Seznec, along with their daughter Gwen and other family members raise grass-fed sheep on 90 acres of pasture. The farm is under an agricultural conservation easement to keep the rural nature of this beautiful Chesapeake Bay farm protected.

Lamb - grass-fed & humanely-raised

Maidstone Harvest produce

Honey and jams

Firewood and sawmill operation

Community gardens

Vacation rental cottage

Weddings and special events

Located on the Broadneck peninsula

- 10-15 minutes to downtown Annapolis and US Naval Academy
- 45 minutes from Washington DC and Baltimore; 3.5 hrs from New York City
- On Ridout Creek, off Whitehall Bay in the Severn River watershed

Strong online presence

- Website and online store hollywoodfarm.com
- Facebook & Instagram @hollywoodfarm
- Airbnb Superhost since 2019 airbnb.com/h/cottage-at-hollywood-farm

Under conservation easement and fully transitioned to sustainable, regenerative agriculture in 2022.

Surrounded by Chesapeake Bay creeks, abundant flora and fauna, and acres of woods with walking trails.

Around Broadneck: A community garden grows on Hollywood Farm

As Anne Van Allen, board chair of the non-profit organization Grow Annapolis, Inc., watches as gardeners Donna Furbish and Martha Chalmers tend a plot in the organization's newest community garden, located on Hollywood Farm, a 126-acre farmstead on the Broadneck peninsula. (By Wendi Winters, Staff)

By Wendi Winters wwinters@capgaznews.com

May 11, 2015

A community garden is thriving in a half-acre corner of a 126-acre farm on the Broadneck peninsula.

Last year, Grow Annapolis, Inc. was able to lease the half-acre space Hollywood Farm, owned by Jean-Francois and Thackray Sezne to create a new community garden.

Committed to our community by hosting not-for profit gardens that donate produce to local food pantries.

Weddings on the farm

We love to provide a beautiful, peaceful setting for people's most special days.

Hollywood Farm is permitted to host up to 8 weddings or other special events annually. A temporary use application to Anne Arundel County is required.

Multiple wedding and reception areas available on the farm

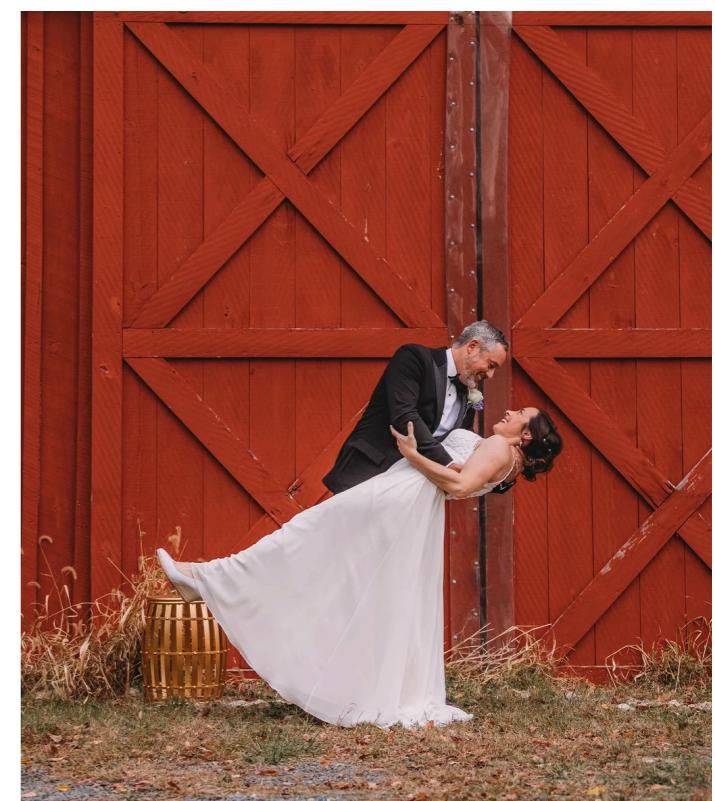

Red barn - large outdoor area for tents, bonfires, gatherings

Red barn interior - large indoor space with small kitchen and bathroom

Rental cottage allows tent for up to 80 guests

Several farm fields available for larger groups, for tents or outdoor dinners

An environmentally sustainable choice— composting of food waste is available

Tell us what you'd like to see

We can work with you to bring your ideas to life!

Various packages available.

Contact:

Gwen Manseau
Hollywood Farm
1701 Pleasant Plains Rd.
Annapolis, MD 21409
gwen@hollywoodfarm.com
Office: (410) 349-8020
Mobile: (202) 344-5584

hollywoodfarm.com

@hollywoodfarm

